

The Deste (literally "Deck", a truncation of "Katina's Deck") is a popular fortune telling deck in Turkey and Greece. This recent deck is read using Tarot-like Spreads, and utilizes reversals. The four Spirit cards are always kept separate from the bulk of the deck. To perform a reading, first shuffle the deck, then form it into a stack. You place your hand on the top of the stack, and twist the deck so it forms a spiral. Cards are then pulled from the spiral to fill the Spread. After the reading the four Elemental Spirit cards are shuffled, and one card is drawn. This is the Advice card, about how to resolve the previous reading. Note that the Deste includes all the cards of a Lenormand deck (match-ups have been indicated below), so it would be possible to use a subset of the Deste to perform regular Lenormand readings.

The Pictographs

Afyon (opium) --- [Lilies]

You will overcome and forget the unpleasant things that you have gone through. You may go through a lot, but new situations will make you forget. You shall find peace. The Opium says that time is on your side. No matter how much you hurt now, the conditions will become better, the situation will heal. This card appearing on another person of the Deste cards symbolizes strong addictions. Alcohol, gambling and drugs.

Reversed = You shall be overcome with grief. You shall try new things in an attempt to stop worrying, but all this will be in vain. Your pain will always return, just like a nightmare. Opium shall not bring redemption. No matter how much you take of it, the pain will keep coming again and again.

Agac (tree) --- [Tree]

Good health and strength. If this card appears, the predictions are positive. The card also stands for healing, for a fine birth, also for recovery. Should it appear next to a love card, and then it symbolizes a healthy relationship with deep, strong roots. No difficulty will bend it. Next to a love card, it also means that your companion loves you deeply.

Reversed = Tree is a card of ill luck. It brings disease. If it is surrounded by evil cards, then the disease shall be serious. If not, it shall be overcome.

Alyans (wedding ring) --- [Ring]

An engagement. A blessed marriage, a happy, blissful life, rich and joyful.

Reversed = Difficulties in marriage that might come as quarrels, unhappiness, separate beds or even divorce. The person that you love is cheating on you.

Anahtar (key) --- [Key]

You exit your solitude, you exit from the prison that you yourself had built and locked yourself inside. Optimism lies ahead. You will know progress and prosperity. Friends and loved ones surround you. If this card is followed by the cards of the Door, the Path and the Sailboat, you shall have the best life.

Reversed = Loneliness, denial of life. The Key locks you away behind walls.

Ay (moon) --- [Moon]

Tears, and heartache. You shall go through some trouble that will bring tears to your eye. But if the card is surrounded by good card, then the ill luck shall be of a short, temporary nature.

*Reversed = The meaning does not change when reversed, but its effects are somewhat lessened. Sadness does not last forever, it is passing and changing.

Bahceler (show garden) --- [Garden]

You shall go to a feast, a party, a joyous meeting, or you shall make a new, important meeting, that will prove to be good for you. It will be a loyal and long term relationship. The card also means that the person that you love wishes to meet you.

*Reversed = The meaning does not change when reversed, but it's effects are somewhat lessened.

Balik (fish) --- [Fish]

The time to choose has come. You are in a dilemma and do not know what to do. You shall have to choose. To avoid your defeat, you shall have to choose between the two: you either strike first, and you strike hard, or you flee. If the card appears next to another Deste figure, then this person is a strong friend who helps you with your choice.

Reversed = The Fish has a potent enemy who might suddenly pop up in his way. Should this also happen to you, you shall swim strongly, slip away and avoid your enemy. If this card appears reverse next to another Deste figure, then this person shall give you a shock. When the Fish swim away, your decisions and your hope get stronger.

Baykus (owl) --- [Birds]

Knowledge, wisdom, experience, inspiration and new ideas. Maturity. Studies that broaden your mind. You shall master a craft. Whatever you went through shall fill you with experience. Your knowledge is profound. Harmony of nature and spirit. The card brings success in letters and arts.

Reversed = Whatever you thought you knew is proved to be wrong. Difficulties. Wisdom that brings sorrow and short term knowledge. You shall withstand the temporary problem and find a solution. If this card appears on another person of the Deste cards during a reading, then it means that this person is brutal, and illiterate.

Bulutlan (cloud) --- [Clouds]

White clouds in the sky. White is a good color for you. It symbolizes peace, courage, serenity. It also means true love, strong and pure. Whatever problems you have to face will soon be solved, without leaving a single wound or mark.

Reversed = Dark clouds in the sky.

Capa (anchor) --- [Anchor]

This card is a strong indication of security and certainty in business, as well as in love. The new companion brings along with him the gifts of stability and certainty. Advantages in business and loyalty in love. If the person inquiring the cards is a woman, then she is the first lady of the harem, bearing this card as a crown.

Reversed = Insecurity, instability and change of mind. The certainty leaves you and your life is unstable. The situation is out of control. Everything now depends on your behavior towards your companion – should you upset him, or disappoint him, the anchor that symbolizes the stability in your relationship shall be pulled up, the ship of your affair will start off for dangerous waters.

Cicekler (flowers) --- [Bouquet]

You do not lose your courage, because the flowers bloom, filling the world with their perfumes. Nature blooms every springtime.

*Reversed = The meaning does not change when reversed.

Dag (mountain) --- [Mountain]

Power. You stand strong at the blows of destiny. Fate strikes and you hold your shield up strongly. The thunderbolt goes away.

Reversed = You will break. All new beginnings are difficult to accomplish. Mirth turns to woe and sorrow and all dreams are crushed.

Deve (camel) --- [Bear]

A strong will. Responsibility and adjustment. Patience is rewarded. Tolerance under pressure. You find ways to overcome financial difficulties. Resourcefulness.

Reversed = Poverty. You shall bow and patiently withstand a situation which remains the same. There will be a period when patience will be required, and you shall spend all your savings. It is only with great difficulty that you shall find ways to overcome the controversies. Your efforts for accumulation of goods shall be long, or even fruitless. You shall not be able to pay your debts. A loss of job, a loss of goods and fortune.

Ev (home) --- [House]

This card upright is a symbol of family happiness. It means that whatever you decide to do within the family shall be fruitful and successful. Even if the conditions are not positive at the moment, the opportunities are many, and promising. An upright Home is a home that shall be built, or a home that shall come again to life after a separation. The family shall be gathered together once more. If the card appears next to other Deste figures, then these are the kind neighbours that live next door, and that shall run to your aid.

Reversed = Loss of your family serenity because of what is happening in your own house. Quarrels, arguments and whining in the family. If the card appears reverse next to other Deste figures, then they are the troublesome neighbours that dwell next to you. They shall cause problems.

Fareler (mice) --- [Mice]

An indication of theft, robbery, forgery, a loss of trial. Every conflict ends up in loss for you. You lose your argument, people treat you unfairly. Your loss might be beyond repair. If the Mice appear next to another person of the Deste, never do business with this person. If it is a friend, see that you hide away your most precious belongings whenever he visits.

Reversed = Justice. You have a point, you make a strong argument. Your loss may not be final. You may find again what was stolen from you.

Gunes (sun) --- [Sun]

The bright Sun will fill your life with light, it will outshine all misery and every problem of yours shall find a solution. Good luck, good omens. If you are disappointed now, and you have lost your courage, fear not, for the brightest Deste card, the Sun, will shine again in the end, even brighter.

*Reversed = The meaning does not change when reversed.

Hac (cross) --- [Cross]

Pain of the body and pain of the soul. Evil omens. Guilt and remorse shall enter your soul with cruelty. You shall lose all credibility and appreciation to your face. A tragic mistake is bound to be made. If the card appears next to another Deste figure, it then brings displeasure, lack of esteem and sorrow to this person.

Reversed = When the Cross appears reversed, then you shall predict and either avoid or correct your mistake, before its consequences crush you.

Kale (castle) --- [Tower]

This card means that you will have longevity. If it is a king who inquires the Deste cards, then he should build new cities with strong foundations, because days of peace and prosperity lie ahead.

Reversed = If this card is surrounded by evil cards, a disease is possible, or some form of handicap. A disastrous famine. A war at the gates.

Kalp (heart) --- [Heart]

True love. A love that is great and strong, a love that shines brightly.

Reversed = Trouble in the love bed. A heart that is hurt, broken. The Heart, though, is indeed a strong symbol, it shall overcome, and love shall bloom again.

Kapi (door) --- [Clover]

This card is a messenger of higher ranks, great position, honour. This card is a bright omen. Your luck is bright and your joy shall be immense. If the card appears near any other Deste figure, then the person represented by it, shall bring you luck. It is this person that shall open the door for you.

Reversed = Honour, higher rank and achievement still lay ahead in your future, but they shall be obtained with difficulty. You shall tire, but you shall enjoy them. If the card is surrounded by evil cards that enclose it, it is only then that the door shall close for you. A loss of your rank, your position. If a Sultan is inquiring the cards, he shall lose his throne.

Kitap (book) --- [Book]

The book bestows spiritual gifts. Mysticism. This card stands for a great, deep secret that brings relief. You understand things that were beyond your comprehension. Life reveals its secrets and maybe you realize that you have not been looking in the right places so far. The book brings you enlightenment. It gives you the ability to perceive what it is that you really want.

Reversed = The card stands for a deep, great secret that brings you burden. Its scriptures are a herald of sorrows that will soon come. They hide tears and deeply buried secrets. They hide many fears. The secrets that you shall learn will bring tears in your eyes. Even despair, as soon as you shall realize the vanity in all this. But in the end, all this shall be to your own benefit, when the secret meaning of the book is revealed and leads your life.

Kiz Cocugu (girl child) --- [Child]

Fertility, the coming of a child. The card also means that you take great joy from your child or from a young person whom you love and protect. If this card appears on another person during a Deste reading, it means that this person is righteous, married with children and filled with kindness. Charity and mercy. A person loved by all.

Reversed = Problems coming from children. Sorrow coming from you children or from young people that you love and protect. Wish for a child that will come much later, or will not come at all.

Kopek (dog) --- [Dog]

A friend comes to your aid and support. The card also indicates what goes on in the house, in comparison to the eastern and the western card. The card also means that you should trust the solution that comes from a true and long friendship.

Reversed = When the card of the Dog appears reverse on another Deste figure it brings trouble, quarrels, and break ups in this person's house. If it appears on you, it then devours you. You shall be betrayed by a friend, especially if the card is surrounded by evil cards.

Mektup (letter) --- [Letter]

News. Good tidings. The card symbolizes a message with news from far away. The surrounding cards indicate what kind of news you shall receive. A coming, or a comeback of someone who is far away.

Reversed = Bad tidings.

Mezar (tomb) --- [Coffin]

The end is near. Every kind of ending. This card also means death, if all four surrounding cards are evil. It means something final. A loss of courage to deal with your problems and overcome them. The card also symbolizes the voices of the dead from the afterlife.

Reversed = All is dark. You shall lose your courage. When this card appears reverse, the body lies on the bed of death, but the soul desires to live and death is avoided.

Nil Nehri (the Nile) --- [Stork]

Your job is doing well and it shall bring fruits. A good seed is a fact. Whatever you start now, shall be fruitful later on. Fertility and bliss. Wealth that is earned with hard labour. If this card appears upon the person inquiring, then this person will become a workaholic, craving for wealth. The card brings success in business and trade.

Reversed = Your job becomes a passion in which you are drowned. The Nile can flood and drown men and villages. It is the work that wears you out. It is difficult to handle, if there is no aid from the surrounding cards. When the Nile is reversed, there is failure in business and trade.

Samyeli (simoom) --- [Rider]

Unexpected meeting with someone you desire to see. Sudden evolution. It also brings a change of residence or a new relationship, always to the best. Perhaps a sudden change of residence. If cards that symbolize money and wealth appear next to this card, then you shall find something of great value.

Reversed = Accidental but unpleasant meeting with someone you did not wish to see. Sudden breaking up, separation when least expected. A change of house to the worst.

A note about this guide:

The meaning descriptions for each card were written by an unknown person, to which English was obviously their second language. The card labels are those listed on the Turkish version. Although each card description appears to be close to its actual meaning, the writer has steered and embellished them.
